

Hope you might not give up praying for our “Prayer Cup” project

This Tuesday my Doctor does tests to decide if my pre diabetes has advanced to the point I will need insulin but MOSTLY hope you might pray for a few Christian leaders to share our dream for prayer cups. The dream costs no one anything. We just believe strongly that every child in the country has a PERSONAL experience with God.

Hope you will pray with us that every family/Sunday School in the world makes a prayer cup for each child and sticks with the child until God ANSWER at least one prayer.

For my brother Phillip. His memory problems are worsening. Hope you might pray he is able to get to the bathroom on time. It is so hard watching his problems worsen.
