

I leave for Singapore at 3:25 pm today March 6

Sadly it is also the day they move my younger brother Philip to a closed unit for Dementia patients. I will be gone two weeks and he will miss my twice weekly visits to the core of his being. It is about all he has left and he does not understand when I have tried to explain. The other brother will be here for two days but it is not the same as having me. Hope you might pray for God's comfort for Phillip??

Hope you might pray also for peace during the 24 hour flight but mostly that God help me know why I am going to this summit for Child Evangelists. I have no clear vision or leading myself but am going at the urging of others and a sense that God wants me there. One problem is the hotel reservations. They have not responded to my last two emails and I may end up staying in a youth hostel for backpackers.
